

PATEL breaks the law concerning refugees. SO WHAT, WHO CARES?

Not our government.

Our media? You jest.

Do refugees matter?

Should we treat them decently?

The U.K. has done so much to make people refugees. Responding to their needs, however, is a very low priority. Add to that, Patel seems to be possessed of an uncontrollable urge to be nasty.

We are, meanwhile, reminded that the racism of Johnson uses IQ measurements. Influence of Cummings? I doubt he has read IQ, THE BRILLIANT IDEA THAT FAILED by Stephen Murdoch (2007). I doubt he is aware of the dodginess of Cyril Burt's research that underpinned the 11-Plus. We know how he feels about piccaninies with watermelon smiles. But his racism extends to class. Wrong colour? Wrong class? Combine the two and we know how de Piffle sees us.

'Wrong class' looks like key for Boris. Patel is the 'wrong' colour but very clearly the 'right' class. Same with Ultra Rich Risky.

As I said, WHO CARES? If we don't care, just imagine another ten years of this. Corbyn was no Robespierre but Starmer? Scarcely a Girondin. Almost certainly a Royalist in disguise. Tap me on the shoulder with your sword Your Majesty and I shall be your dutiful subject. Just don't tell the Labour Party. Not yet, I am bringing them under new management.

Refugees? How dare they flee from countries we have destroyed and devastated?
